ABSTRACT

The Women and Children Protection Technical Service Unit (WCPTU) is an institution that focuses on providing services related to reporting issues concerning women and children. Acts of violence can pose both physical and mental risks. Various forms of violence, such as sexual violence, child abuse, and other forms of aggression, are frequently experienced by women and children. Therefore, from these issues arises the concept of implementing the "Web-Based Reporting Application for Violence Against Women and Children" to address violence against women and children. This application allows victims to report violence online through an online form, facilitating the collection of detailed information and requests for assistance from the authorities. The system is developed using PHP programming language and utilizes the MySQL database along with the CodeIgniter framework. This application provides an efficient and coordinated solution for handling cases of violence against women and children.
